I call my art philosophy Transliminal: work that re-interprets its context, often as an abstract multi-sensory experience in which the visitor forms their own narrative. Using digital techniques I record places and objects and turn them into something physical: installations, light sculptures, and works I make together with machines, such as my laser-cut pieces. I am also co-founder and curator of Uncloud (Utrecht, 2016–ongoing) and of Data Uotan (Mexico City, 2024–ongoing).

Below is a selection of my visual work. My practice is hybrid, and it is precisely because I work across different art forms that I can make a full living from my art. The complete profile is at jacoschilp.nl.

PRESS (SELECTION)

2026	The Hague Online · on Points of Light : "Points of Light is an initiative of the LiGHT-UP collective, consisting of Jan Willem Campmans, Jaco Schilp, Sem Schreuder and Merijn Meijers." (EN)
2025	Magnetic Magazine · on Points of Inaccessibility : "live visuals by Dutch artist Jaco Schilp, whose point cloud system reacts to the sound in real time ... each performance is a live construction rather than a repeatable sequence." (EN)
2025	KLOF Mag · on Points of Inaccessibility : "Schilp's custom point-cloud software ... a digital Rorschach test, in which images dissolved and rebuilt themselves in real time, mirroring the persistence of memory." (EN)
2025	MUTEK MX · interview on Circle of Live : "everything that moved, like cars and people, generated very nice time-gap images, time fragments, and transformed point clouds ... the digital content was always enriched by what was physically happening on stage." (EN)
2024	La Jornada, Mexico · "Data Uotan confirma la posibilidad de coexistencia entre el arte clásico y el digital" (ES)
2024	de Volkskrant · "A highly contrary festival", on Somnia at Le Guess Who?: "beautifully hushed ambient and projections by the Dutch artist Jaco Schilp. On the screen you see the birth of a universe, in unfathomable depths." (transl. from NL)
2022	RTV Utrecht · "In Jaco's panorama you see Utrecht without walls and his trees like stars" (transl. from NL)
2021	de Volkskrant · "Transliminal shows the turbulent history of the Pieter Baan Centrum" (transl. from NL)
